

Objective

To deliver high levels of capital growth in excess of the Consumer Prices Index over the recommended minimum time horizon of 10+ years.

The Fund will seek to achieve its objective by investing in at least 70% in collective investment vehicles, a greater proportion of which will be allocated to growth assets (such as equities) than to defensive assets (such as fixed interest and cash).

Sold Man GLG Sterling Corporate Bond and BlueBay Financial Capital Bond, and reduced allocations to several fixed income and equity products. The capital, alongside some cash, was used to fund the sale of four new structured products. Credit Agricole EuroStoxx Banks Income Autocall was purchased to introduce an income focused structured product, with an attractive yield, into the portfolio. A Credit Agricole range accrual product was purchased for capital protection and an attractive annual income. The Goldman Sachs USD CMT 10 Daily Range Accrual 10.0% and 9.20% notes were purchased to access attractive fixed returns, with capital protection for at least one and two years. The trades worked to lower European banking sector risk and equity risk within the portfolio. Finally, reduced Polar Capital Emerging Market Stars in favour of M&G Global Emerging Markets, equalising the growth / value bias across our EM Equity component.

Commentary

Against a backdrop of geopolitical tensions, global equity markets remained resilient, as returns continued to broaden beyond the US technology sector. Supported by a weak dollar, emerging-market equities delivered their strongest monthly gain since 2022, outperforming developed markets. Within equity styles, global value outperformed growth, and small- and mid-cap indices outperformed in the UK, Europe, and the US. Global government bonds delivered mixed returns in January. Bond yields rose across the US, UK, and Japan, reflecting a shift in rate expectations, policy uncertainty, and fiscal concerns. By contrast, most European yields moved lower, as confidence grew in easing inflation and the prospect of earlier-than-expected rate cuts.
