

Objective

To deliver high levels of capital growth in excess of the Consumer Prices Index over the recommended minimum time horizon of 10+ years.

The Fund will seek to achieve its objective by investing in at least 70% in collective investment vehicles, a greater proportion of which will be allocated to growth assets (such as equities) than to defensive assets (such as fixed interest and cash).

Recycled the capital from one maturing, and several other well performing structured products, into higher yielding rate accruals. These positions were purchased to provide capital protection and an attractive annual income. Within equities, adjusted our UK and European equity allocations towards a more defensive stance. Finally, increased our overall allocation to fixed income.

Commentary

In March, global financial markets were heavily influenced by sharp escalations in the Middle East conflict and the effective close of the Strait of Hormuz. Global government bond yields moved higher as oil prices surged following disruptions to the global energy supply, renewing inflation concerns across major economies. This drove a broad revision of the 2026 interest rate outlook and by month end markets had largely unwound rate cut expectations in the US, UK, and Europe. Global equities also fell, led by European and Asian equities. The energy sector was the single outperformer, driven by the surge in oil prices. The U.S. dollar strengthened against most other currencies, supported by a flight to safe-haven assets, though gold weakened as rising yields reduced its attractiveness.
